IR Board Rejects Venice Bond Plan

City May Be Forced To Default on Bridge "B" Bond Interest in Year

A proposal to "refund" $21 million in outstanding McKinley bridge bonds under a plan of re-scheduled payments has been rejected by the Illinois Terminal Railroad, the Venice city council was informed Friday night.

As a result, Venice appears certain to lose all of its $10,000,000 annual income from operation of the bridge within the next one or two years.

In addition, default on interest payments on $11 million in outstanding B bonds is probable within the next year or two, according to city officials.

The Illinois Terminal refusal to go along with the plan was announced at a regular council meeting Friday night by Frank Hawkins of a Kansas City, Mo., investment firm who entered into an agreement with Venice city officials last June to negotiate a restructured bond plan.

ITR Permission Necessary
Permission of the Illinois Terminal Railroad board of directors was necessary to the success of the plan because the railroad holds about 70% of the outstanding B bonds. The original bond ordinance provides that permission of 100% of the B bond owners and 75% of the A bond holders is necessary for any rearrangement of either bond issue.

Hawkins told the council that he had met with officials of all the lines that make up the Illinois Terminal Railroad and that the proposal was acceptable to a majority.

He knew that the plan was rejected by a very small minority of perhaps only one or two members of the board," Hawkins told the council, pointing out that decisions on such matters must be unanimous. The Terminal board acted in the matter last Monday, he said.

The proposal involved a re-alignment of bond and interest payments and a rescheduling of the order in which payments are made, so that payment of the city's annual $100,000 for operation of the bridge would have been scheduled along with regular maintenance, bond and interest costs.

Traffic Decreasing
As the program now stands, all bond, interest, maintenance, repair and other costs are paid first and the city's $100,000 comes out of the surplus fund remaining. Since the present bond ordinance also provides for an escalation of bond payments starting this year, which will increase the bond requirement each year, any surplus is expected to be wiped out within the next year or two. Traffic began dropping on the bridge in September with opening of the new toll-free Route 270 Chain of Rocks bridge, and the bridge operation already is running about $25,000 below income for a comparable period a year ago.

Hawkins emphasized that income is still sufficient and will continue to be so, for retirement of A bonds.

"The bridge A bonds are now and never have been in jeopardy," Hawkins said.

"I won't say at this time," he added, "that the effort is hopeless or that we have given up."

Milonski to Head United Fund Drive

Mitchell B. Milonski, assistant work manager at American Steel Foundries, will head the 1967 fund campaign for the Tri-Cities Area United Fund, it was announced Thursday evening.

Milonski's appointment for the new drive in the fall was made by the new United Fund board president, A. P. Steinhauser during the annual U.F. meeting at the YMCA.

The new campaign chairman was co-chairman with Carl Mattheis for the U.F. drive held last fall, which raised the largest amount ever reached in a campaign—$68,000.

Milonski also is experienced in the drive through his recent chairmanship of the Industrial Employees Division, and he also is familiar with budgets of the 22 United Fund agencies, having served as a member of the Admissions and Distribution committee for three years.

He has been active in United Fund and other civic programs for the past several years, and is completing a three-year term as a United Fund director, during which he was board secretary for two years.

Traffic Injuries Drop; Three Hurt

Traffic accident injuries dropped off sharply over the weekend. While a total of 24 accidents was reported in the Quad-City area, only three resulted in injuries in three separate accidents.

Daniel Gaddie, 43, of 4040 Division street, was hospitalized here with cuts to his face, neck and right knee, when his auto left the Gulf Club road at the Army Depot and ran into a mound of dirt Saturday evening. Deputy authorities said Gaddie was leaving the golf club at the time of the mishap.

Anita Sue McGee, 7, who was a passenger in an auto driven by Myron McGee, 2604 East 24th street, was injured Friday evening in a two-car collision at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues.

Police said McGee was traveling west when his auto was struck by a car driven by the father of the auto of David Sadler, 2208 Washington avenue.

Lewis G. Kevon, 30, of Godfrey, suffered minor injuries when his auto collided with one driven by Terry L. Hendrickson, 2725 Maryland road, at 9:20 p.m. Thursday in the east block of Johnson road. Hendrickson was charged with speeding.

A. P. Steinhauser New President of Tri-Cities Area United Fund Board

A. P. Steinhauser, works manager of American Steel Foundries, was elected president of the Tri-Cities Area United Fund board of directors during the agency's annual meeting Thursday evening in the YMCA auditorium.

Another highlight of the meeting was a birthday party to observe the 10th anniversary of United Fund here, featuring a large cake decorated with the U.F. emblem and 10 large candles.

In a brief party ceremony, George Eubanks served as master of ceremonies and introduced 10 special guests—10 youngsters all 10 years old who represented United Fund agencies in the area. Each child, in addition to being given a piece of birthday cake and soda, also received a special birthday gift.

Agencies represented by the youngsters were—the Association for Aid to the Retarded, Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Boys' Town of Illinois, Family Service, Girl Scouts, the Salvation Army, Co-ordinated Youth Services, the Visiting Nurse Association and the YMCA.

Hostesses for the party were Debbie Lieurance, Adele Travis and Vicki Wilson, representing YMCA teenagers.

At-Large Order to Be Argued On Friday

Majority of Aldermen Want GC April 4 Vote On Basis of Wards

Judge I. H. Streeper, who uninvited new Granite City council members on Feb. 9 with his at-large election ruling for the April 4 election, will hear arguments at 10 a.m. Friday on a motion filed last Tuesday to vacate the order.

The hearing on the motion, filed on behalf of nine of the 16 aldermen is to be held in the circuit court at Edwardsville. A motion to intervene also was filed last week.

Judge Streeper's at-large ruling on a seven ward basis was handed down just three days before the candidate filing deadline for the April 4 city election in which eight aldermen were to have been elected.

It changed completely the scope of the election, with only seven aldermen to be elected—all on a city-wide basis and no concern for areas of residence within the city.

Basis for Motion
The motion to vacate points out the original mandamus suit filed by Floyd Miller sought for restricting the present eight-ward city for seven wards and did not ask for an at-large election. The at-large election aspect did not arise until the day the order was handed down when an amendment was asked by Miller's attorney.

City Atty. Richard Allen said he was not advised of the large amendment until after the order was handed down by Judge Streeper.

Mandamus proceedings were started at the instigation of the aldermen.

Statewide Crime-Fighting Facilities Offered to Sheriffs

Statewide facilities to fight crime and aid in law enforcement were extended to sheriffs of the local area nine-county state police district yesterday during a meeting of sheriffs and top state law officers at the District 1 headquarters, Maryville.

State Police Capt. Emil Toffani, of Madison, commander of District 1, and State Police Chief William H. Hays, of St. Louis, were present with a group of men, equipment and facilities to the sheriffs. In attendance were Madison County Sheriff Murrell and his chief deputy, Frank Schmidt, along with other sheriffs.

"We're offering all our time to help you track down wanted criminals or search for a missing persons," State Chief Morris said. He told sheriffs that a telephone call to Capt. Toffani, Expect More Troopers.

He explained the state police at present has a manpower shortage due to orders for heavy patrols on the interstate highways, but that it is hoped the legislature will increase the size of the state highway force. Presently it is 40 men short, but 58 are to begin a 16-week recruit course at Springfield today. "We hope to get 50 or more new troopers," Chief Morris added.

At 9:20 p.m. the meeting turned to a merit board meeting in Springfield on qualifications for new troopers, and Capt. Toffani.

Parking Lot to Classroom Buses Proposed for SIU-SW

A proposal to establish an intra-campus transportation system on the Southern Illinois University-Southern campus to carry students from distant parking lots to their classrooms was submitted to the SIU board of directors meeting at the Southern campus Friday morning.

The plan is proposed by two Belleville men who said the system would operate similar to "Mini-train" programs at Louisiana State University and at Southern California campus. A similar plan was used during the Chicago World's Fair to carry passengers from one exhibit to another.

Dr. Norman T. Kaseberg, Belleville chiropractor and Jack Ehret, Belleville plumber and Heating contractor, appeared before the board to ask permission to discuss the plan with administrative officials, pointing out that they had been informed by their attorney that it would first be advisable to appear before the board prior to taking up the matter with other school officials.

They were told, however, that SIU procedure is just the reverse and that the two men first should take the matter to administrative officials who then would present it to the board for further consideration if it is deemed feasible. A meeting is planned this week.

Practical-Tracker Units
Kaseberg told SIU directors the plan calls for use of small tractor units, pulling custom-built trailer units that would accommodate about 30 persons each, traveling between the parking lots and the SIU buildings.

He said that he and Ehret would be glad to handle the matter. They would be glad to handle the matter. They would be glad to handle the matter.

Optimists Preparing For Oratorical Contest

The importance of each person's ability to express their opinions and thereby influence others was stressed by Leo H. Kozzen, a Granite City attorney who spoke Thursday afternoon at the Granite City Optimist's weekly luncheon meeting, held in the YMCA.

Kozzen, who serves as a vice-president of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, emphasized that many times other talents possessed by an individual are usually to no avail if the person is unable to put his ideas across to others.

The attorney related his topic to the Granite City Optimist Club's annual oratorical contest through which local junior and senior high school-age youths are offered an opportunity to compete in speech contests at local, district, state and national levels.

"It is most important that we impress today's youth that the ability to speak on their feet is an asset which will help them in all facets of their future endeavors," Kozzen said.

The 1967 Optimist oratorical contest will be conducted in conjunction with an evening club meeting Thursday, March 9, 10, at the dinner meeting and the names of contest judges will be announced shortly, it was reported by Ernest E. Veith, who introduced the guest speaker.

Optimist president Wilbert Tribes was in charge of the business session Thursday, attended by 31 members. Guests introduced included Walter Harris, a guest of Arthur Roseman and Robert Beedie, a guest of William Kozak.

Tribes appointed a nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for presentation March 23, followed with an election meeting April 1. Named as chairman was Edward Stone, with Robert Brave, David John, Donald Z. Farrington and B. C. O'Neill, as committee members.

This week's meeting will include an explanation of projects now underway at McDonnell Aircraft Corp., relating to the space program. Dr. Raymond Trever, program chairman, announced the speaker as Vernon Johnson, McDonnell Corp. engineer.

Man Arrested on Three Charges in Venice

A St. Louis man arrested in Venice Friday night still was being held in the Venice city jail today to face other charges from the village of Alorton in St. Clair county and authorities in Kansas City, Mo., and Tallahassee, Fla., according to Venice police.

Keith Chamley, 38, of St. Louis, was picked up by Venice police at Third street and Broadway following an accident in the 700 block of Main street in which two parked cars were struck by a hit-and-run driver. Shortly after the accident at 8:15 p.m. Friday, police found an abandoned 1967 model auto in the 100 block of Hampden street. It was identified as the car involved in the accident.

Police, armed with a description of the hit-run driver provided by witnesses, arrested Chamley a short time later. He denied he owned a car or had been driving on. Police said he was carrying several expensive cameras when arrested and that other camera equipment was found in the car. Venice police filed charges of careless driving, leaving the scene of an accident and driving with fictitious license plates, against Chamley.

A check of license plate on the car showed they were issued to a leasing corporation at Kansas City, Mo., for a different make of car than that involved in the Venice accident, officers said.

Make Identification

Venice authorities said Robert M. Ward, Rural Route One, Granite City, and Isaac Cantrell, 124 Broadway, Venice, owners of the parked cars damaged in the crash, identified Chamley as driver of the hit-run car later found abandoned.

Executive Mansion To be Refurbished; Anti-Gaming Bill

General Assembly actions last week included steps taken to ward a $1,500,000 rehabilitation program for the 112-year-old executive mansion at Springfield and House approval, 102-0-0, to make the holder of a federal gambling stamp ineligible for a state liquor license.

Emergency legislation is expected for the governor's three-story, termite-ridden mansion so that work can get started this summer.

The anti-gambling legislation now goes to the Senate.

Another bill in the House calls for creation of a county reappointment commission to study townships to determine compliance with the Supreme Court "one man one vote" ruling.

House Bill 458 would enable persons to vote in a primary election without declaring party affiliation; while another bill would create acts to authorize counties to enter into contracts with townships to furnish police protection or allow cities to enter into police protection contracts with townships.

A Senate bill would permit metal studded tires on highways.

The House has passed a bill amending the municipal code to allow cities to prohibit minors under 18 from playing pinball machines.

Miss Brenda Diane Cavins, Sidney L. Womack are Wed

Miss Brenda Diane Cavins and Sidney L. Womack were married Friday evening at the First Baptist Church of the Nazarene, 2400 East 25th street.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Orlis Cavins, 2300 East 34th street, and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney R. Womack, 2043 Washington avenue.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at 7 o'clock by Rev. Lurton George, assisted by Rev. George Reeder. Bouquets of white flowers decorated the altar for the ceremony, and candles in brass candelabra illuminated the church. A reception was held afterward in the church hall.

Mrs. Ralph Barker, a sister of the bride, presided at the organ and accompanied Mrs. William Dannemeyer, the bridegroom's sister, as she sang "Because" and the Lord's Prayer.

The bride wore a gown of pure white peau de soie and tulle, accented with lace. Full length, it was made with a sabine neck-line outlined with Chantilly-type lace embroidered with iridescent sequins.

The slim, fitted bodice had long tapered sleeves of lace and the very bouffant skirt was designed with an overskirt effect of crystals encircled with lace in a ruffled effect. A cascade of ruffled tiers, also embroidered with sequins, cascaded into a full cathedral-length train.

Crinoline held wide the skirt and a bouffant veil of silk illusion was secured to a crown of crystals with rose lace flowers and a tear drop in the center of the forehead. White carnations and lilies of the valley were combined in the bride's bouquet.

Mrs. Frank Oakley was matron of honor, and Miss Barbara Hoyt and Mrs. Ronald Chandler served as bridesmaids.

They were dressed alike in floor-length gowns of melon chiffon over tulle. The brides' bouquets were styled with scoop necklines and elbow-length sleeves bordered with ruffles. Rows accented the high waistlines and the skirts were long and slim. Melon headpieces with white maline veils completed their costumes, and they carried nosegays of shrimp and white carnations.

A flower girl, Denise Cavins, niece of the bride, dressed in white, carried a basket of shrimp carnations. Eric Dannemeyer, the bridegroom's nephew, carried the rings.

Mr. Womack's attendants were Roger Hickman, best man, Carl Justice, Ronald Chandler and Larry Lane, groomsmen and ushers.

The bride's mother wore a turquoise and white suit, and beige accessories, while the bridegroom's mother chose a slim sheath dress of pink lace and crepe with matching accessories.

Both had white orchid corsages. Both young people were graduates from the Granite City high school, and the bridegroom is continuing his studies at Southern Illinois University—Southwestern campus. The bride, an IBM operator, is employed in St. Louis.

Venice Police Crack Down On Broadway Train Tieups

Venice police began a crack-down on prolonged train blockages at the Broadway crossing Friday and in its first action cited the Norfolk & Western Railroad for a court appearance on a charge of blocking the Broadway crossing for 33 minutes Friday morning.

Police said the train, headed south, crossed Broadway at 10:12 a.m. Friday, and cleared the crossing at 10:45 a.m. A notice to appear was served on Arthur Young, Caseyville, conductor.

State law now makes it illegal for trains to block street crossings for more than ten minutes, whether the train is moving or not. Venice police said members of the department have been instructed that in the case of such violations they are to serve notices on the conductor or engineer, then return to headquarters where they will sign the complaint. The complaint can be given the respondent at the hearing.

Police said they were told by Magistrate Matosian that Granite City has used this system of enforcing the time limitation on train blockages and that he frequently has fined railroads from $50 to $100 for each violation.

Warriors Win 14th Straight Mat Sectional Meet

Send 5 Wrestlers to State Tourney

Granite City high school warrior matmen claimed their 14th consecutive Illinois sectional wrestling championship, totaling 67 points at Wood River Saturday. The victory tied a state record for consecutive number of sectional wins.

The native City state qualified five for the state championship tournament in Champaign at University of Illinois Assembly Hall next Saturday.

The Warriors' prime candidate to win at Champaign is 103-pound Bill Fuchs, who won all three of his sectional bouts via pins. Fuchs, who now boasts a 104-3 career record, has been victorious in all his 36 matches this season.

Jan Gitchio (112) and Jerry Lapinski (138) also won individual championships for GCHS; 154-pound Ray Hankins and Bruce Illies (145) captured runner-up honors in their classes.

Cus Schalkam (120) was awarded third place defeating his opponent 7-4 in the consolation title match.

Decatur Ahead at Half

Decatur, an odds-on favorite to capture the sectional, finished second just 10 points shy of the victorious Warriors. Decatur was ahead of the Warriors 39-36 halfway through the meet.

In accumulating its 57 markers, Decatur counted four men for the state meet. Third-place Jacksonville will take three to Champaign.

Decatur's Rusty Cunningham and Mark Malley will represent their school in the 95 and 145-pound weight classes. Malley just eked out a victory over Warrior Bruce Illies.

Jacksonville's Roger Spaulding, Chip Southen and Bob Dennis were champs in the 120, 127 and 154 divisions. Dennis defeated Warrior Ray Hankins 6-3 in a close-fought bout.

Speculation that Decatur would win the sectional after its victory in the Granite City holiday tournament brought this comment

Moore Sparks Warriors To 68-54 Win over Alton

Terry Moore's 23 points sparked the Granite City Warriors to a 68-54 conquest over Alton, Friday on the Warrior floor.

Alton bounced early into the lead 4-0, but the Warriors caught fire hitting seven straight points. From this point on Granite City never relinquished the lead.

The Warriors capitalized on eight quick Redbird fouls, Moore gaining eight of his 14 first period points via the free throw stripe. Granite City led 21-15 going into the second quarter.

Gary Simpson picked up the slack, hitting for six of his 18 points in the second quarter. Alton, without the services of center Leon Hill, scored only eight during the period. GCHS added 15 more to lead 36-23 at halftime.

Silva point totals plagued both squads during the third period. Alton's Mike Crivello and Mike Jeffries joined their Warrior counterparts on the sidelines due to fouls.

Moore led all scorers with 23 (13-15 from the line), Simpson followed with 18 (8-8 from the charity stripe). Hentzel 12 (6-8 from the free throw line), Jeff Jones 4, Malottki 2, John Van-squads during the third period, Buskirk 2 and Jim Stuart added 7. Alton's Mike Crivello had 16 ing just 10. Moore sat out the

MHS Trojans Knock Off Bethalto for 70-63 Win

Midwestern conference kingpin 28. Collins tallied all ten of his points during the stanza by 21-15 as the Trojans knocked off lowly Bethalto 70-63 Friday on the MHS court.

Gold shooting and alert defenses by both teams held first half scoring down. The high scoring Trojans managed just 27 markers to the Bethalto's 25. The Trojans led 15-13 going into the second quarter.

A big factor in the low yield was Ron Burt's three fouls in the first few minutes of the contest. He was forced to ride the bench for most of the first half.

Bethalto, in hitting 18 markers in the third period, captured the lead 49-42 as third quarter action halted. The Trojans scored 15 during the period, taking advantage of a goal tending call and an Eagle technical foul followed by a bucket for a five point play.

31 for Lusk.

Gary Lusk, who led all scorers with 31, hit most in the second half as the Trojans bounced back in fourth quarter action, hitting darts.

MHS-Bethalto Tickets

Advance sale of tickets for Friday's Madison-Bethalto West basketball game here will begin today at Madison high school. All seats for the game will be reserved, and tickets will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Lincoln 20th Victim As Venice Ends With Win

The Venice Red Devils finished their regular basketball season by coming from behind to edge Lincoln of East St. Louis 46-43 on the Lincoln floor Friday.

The Red Devils finished their 20th win of the season, and have suffered five losses.

Described by Bill Ohlendorf, Venice coach, as the "supreme defensive effort" the Red Devils have performed this season, the game saw both teams fight for possession of the ball and for shooting opportunities throughout the game.

"They had their hands in our faces constantly," Ohlendorf said. He commended John Gardner for picking off 10 rebounds and pacing the Red Devils with 21 points.

Take Lead Late in Game

Rich Essington, leading scorer, and Gardner combined efforts in the final period to put the Red Devils out in front 43-36 with 1:36 left in the game.

Then Lincoln began a scoring rally but had to turn over the ball to Venice because of traveling violations in two instances. Venice capitalized on Lincoln's misfortune for the points needed to win the game.

The Red Devils were behind 13-12 after the opening half, 25-23 at the half and 31-28 after three periods.

Following top scorer Gardner with 16 points, Russell Turner five, and Denny Hill and Lloyd Harper, two each.

Price Seeks Education Aids for Vets' Widows

Congressman Melvin Price, (D), on Friday proposed legislation extending veterans educational assistance benefits to widows of veterans of world war II, the Korean conflict and the Vietnam era (the period beginning Aug. 5, 1949).

Price said a bill he introduced would provide educational benefits for widows ranging from $130 to $175 monthly as full time students, based on the number of dependents. Widows would be eligible for four-year benefits, enabling them to pursue secondary and college level studies under the provision of Price's bill.

Price also introduced legislation to help the domestic dairy industry with its import program. His bill would permit dairy imports equivalent to the 1961-1965 average of domestic consumption of milk and milk products. When consumption in a given calendar year was greater or less than the five-year average, the total import volume would be adjusted by a corresponding percentage.

Town of Salem Boasts Three Claims to National Fame

Most towns are happy to have one claim to national fame but Salem, seat of Marion county in southern Illinois, can claim at least three.

Today a bustling industrial and agricultural center in the middle of old fields, Salem can look back to three important events that each developed into important phases of American history.

The first was the actual founding of Salem in 1829 when it was staked out as the half-way mark on the old Vincennes-St. Louis stagecoach run. It was an important Way Station and contributed much to the development of Mid-America.

Presidential Candidate

The second was in 1860 when a son was born to Judge and Mrs. Silas Bryan in a little white house at 408 South Broadway. The lad was named William Jennings Bryan and he was to become a major candidate for the Presidency of the United States.

The third was in 1943 when a group of Legionnaires were to gather at the Luther B. Easley American Legion Post and start the ball rolling for what was to become the now famous "G. I. Bill of Rights."

Despite these unique distinctions, Salem has had a bit of trouble being confused with New Salem since that historic Lincoln village was restored and made into a State Park. The Senior Salem often has to explain that the "tin business" seven years before its newer name-sake became a settlement some 100 miles farther north in Illinois on the Sangamon river. They really are no relation.

On Lincoln Circuit

But they do both share Abraham Lincoln. When Lincoln became a lawyer, Salem was his circuit and two houses in which he lodged during his stops there are now open to the public. Lincoln also made political history in Salem. He chose it as the site for one of his early speeches and historians say today that it may have actually brought about the election in 1840 of William Henry Harrison as President.

Salem is proud of its William Jennings Bryan Heritage and has established a Bryan Trail through its city limits. His birthplace has been turned into an interesting city-owned and operated museum and presents a wide collection of Bryan's papers and memorabilia, many the gifts of his relatives and friends.

An arresting monument of the man known as "The Great Commoner" stands just north of town across from the city park. Also known the original "Soldiers and Sailors" Reunion Grounds.

Although unsuccessful in his quest for the Presidency, Bryan served as Secretary of State and left a lasting impression on his nation.

Secretary of State

In 1943, Salem was to become the site of the Lincoln Bicentennial.

THORNSBURY, JAMES G., 1520 Johnson road. Entered into rest 11:50 a.m. Sunday, Feb. 19, 1967, St. Elizabeth Hospital.

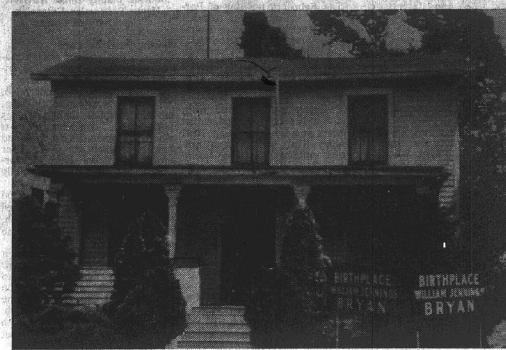

Beloved husband of Mrs. Viola Thornsburg; dear father of Cary and James J. Thornsburg; dear brother of Ora and Ernest Thornsburg, Mrs. Ethel Bunch, and Mrs. Maude Bowlin; dear grandfather.

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN'S birthplace in Salem, Ill., is one of several attractions there pointed out by the Illinois Division of Tourism. Salem also is the birthplace of the GI Bill of Rights.

the birthplace of something that would also leave an everlasting imprint on the nation. It was the original plan for the "GI Bill of Rights," a Congressional enactment that was to affect every returning serviceman and servicewoman of world war II.

There are Salem Legionnaires who well remember that eventful night of Nov. 3, 1943, when the late Omar McKim, post commander, was paying off a bet with a post dinner to celebrate its successful membership drive. Several State Legion officials were attending as special guests.

Many times during the evening's speeches, there was mention of the hope that there could be a better break for the boys of war I when they came home than those men of war I had had. Following the dinner, some of them gathered around a table in a back room and hatched out an omnibus bill. In less than one year from its inception this plan became a law and the famous GI Bill of Rights was born.

About ten miles from the population center of the U.S.A., Salem lies at the intersection by U. S. Interstate 57. Still today, many world war II veterans stop and ask to see the spot where their GI Bill of Rights heritage actually began.

Salem residents never seem too busy to point out directions or stop to talk about their town. They want to help you "Enjoy Illinois."

Sewing Machine Care

If you expect your sewing machine to give you service and satisfaction, give it proper care. To guarantee perfect operation, home sewers will need to clean, oil and lubricate their machines periodically, depending upon where the machines are kept and how much they are used. Refer to the instruction book for specific care information, especially motor care.

To keep your machine in good working condition you will need these tools: a soft cleaning cloth, a lint brush and sewing machine oil.

After a week of sewing or when you have completed a garment, remove lint from the take-up lever, tension discs, bobbin case and machine surface with a soft, clean cloth. If necessary, dampen the cloth to clean the machine surface but do not use a detergent.

Use a lint brush to clean the area behind the face plate and the top and bottom of the machine in the oil holes. Clean all exposed parts and areas behind the face plate. Swab these parts with a lint brush saturated in sewing machine oil to protect the machine from rust. Rust damage is more likely to occur when the machine is stored in a closed closet than when the machine is kept open to air circulation.

Keep a small piece of fabric under the pressure foot with the needle down through it to protect the foot and feed from damage. When the pressure foot is down, the pressure spring is released and its life prolonged. Also, excess oil will be carried into the fabric by the needle instead of accumulating on the needle.

SIU Board to Limit Sales At New SW Campus Store

A statement of policy guaranteeing that merchandise sold in the campus store of the SIU-Southwestern campus will be limited to items "commonly sold by campus stores at public institutions" was approved Friday by the board of trustees of Southern Illinois University.

Meeting in the offices of SIU President Doyne Morris at the Southwestern campus Friday morning, the board acted after hearing representatives of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, Metro-East Chamber of Commerce Association, and the Edwardsville Chamber of Commerce outline different views in a prolonged controversy involving reported plans of the campus store to establish a "junior department" store.

The board approved a prepared "policy statement" in what is an effort to ward off speculation of legislation that would specifically limit items to be sold in the stores of Illinois educational institutions supported by tax funds. Bills providing such legislation have been filed in the General Assembly at Springfield and are now in committee.

House Report Due
SIU officials and representatives of objecting groups as well as those of the state Chamber of Commerce appeared recently before a House subcommittee which finally agreed to hold up definite action on the measures until it received a report concerning willingness of the state universities to adopt policy statements concerning operation of their campus stores.

The controversy which has grown into a state-wide issue developed two months ago with reports that the Southwestern campus planned expansion of its book store to handle merchandise of general nature which, Edwardsville merchants claimed, would be in direct competition to the retail business of Edwardsville retailers. The Edwardsville Chamber of Commerce claimed that SIU which is supported by tax funds thus would offer direct competition to the merchants who pay taxes that help support the institution.

The matter was thrown into the lap of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, as well as MECCA, an organization of seven Chambers of Commerce in the Madison-St. Clair county area. The Chamber of Commerce was asked to support the move proposed by the Edwardsville organization for state legislation that would prevent state institutions from competing with taxpaying businesses. MECCA also was asked to support the move.

Bills Introduced
Legislation was introduced in the Senate Jan. 17 by State Sens. Hudson R. Sours and Paul Simon to regulate university stores. Two days later, House Speaker Ralph T. Smith of Alton introduced a similar bill in the House. A subcommittee held hearings in which delegates of the three separate groups testified. The committee manages to make a report Wednesday.

Jack Broman, manager of the Educational Division of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce, was the first speaker before the board meeting Friday. He said the state chamber prefers policy statements from each of the state-supported universities to legislation control for operation of such stores.

Broman told the SIU board that the situation has brought to light the need of a system of closer relationship between the university administration and the public of surrounding communities.

He pointed out that the Illinois Chamber of Commerce Association had filed with the board of SIU, prior to Friday's meeting, a policy statement concerning book store operation and that its adoption should replace the need of legislation.

Would Clear The Air
Broman told the board that "I believe the air would be cleared by a specific published policy."

The "policy statement" suggested by the Illinois chamber called specifically for limitation of book store sales to textbooks necessary to students and faculty members, laboratory and vocational shop equipment and supplies, clothing such as gym suits and sweat shirts, food, snacks and refreshments in the cafeteria and other "personal" property used in authorized courses of instruction.

The suggested policy also called for appointment by the SIU board of five-to-seven-man Business Advisory committees made up of businessmen from the surrounding area, to meet not less than once a year to consider status of the situation.

George Berry of Wood River, president of the Wood River Township Chamber of Commerce and also president of MECCA, speaking in behalf of the MECCA organization, told the SIU board that "MECCA is in favor of a stand that is about halfway between the state chamber and the Edwardsville Chamber of Commerce (which supports the legislative approach)."

Wants Strong Statement
Berry said MECCA is not particularly interested in legislation controlling university book stores, but does favor a strong published statement of policy by the universities limiting merchandise sold in campus bookstores to "textbooks and related items" necessary to the students and faculty members.

Berry added that the issue has become a matter of principle

Double Check Income Tax Figures, IRS Office Asks

Thousands of Illinois taxpayers made more-or-less-Federal income tax than they thought they did when they filed returns last year because of mistakes they made in arithmetic.

Jay G. Philpott, IRS district director for central and southern Illinois, said errors in adding or subtracting resulted in more tax to pay for some taxpayers while others had less to pay. He noted

Auto Backs into Mishap

An auto backed into the intersection at 20th street and Grand avenue by James H. Brake, 2410 Bryan avenue, collided with another driven by Evonne Setles, 2924 Dale avenue, on Thursday.

Introduced on a pilot basis in 1962 and Illinois taxpayers are being brought into it this year.

Philpott advised all Illinois taxpayers to check the arithmetic a second time before filing tax returns. Avoiding errors also saves the government money because it is quicker and more economical to process an accurate return than one with mistakes.

DAV Auxiliary Sends Six Easter Boxes To Vietnam

Continuing a practice started before Christmas time of sending parcels to groups of local servicemen in Vietnam, members of the Disabled American Veterans' Auxiliary, Chapter 53, over the weekend mailed six large boxes, containing Easter candies and other items, to military personnel serving in the combat area.

Mrs. Lillian Heffer, DAV Auxiliary project chairman and her co-chairman, Mrs. Helen Miller, said that articles for the parcels were collected by chapter members, with the group recently spending an evening packing and wrapping the boxes.

"We decided to send six large parcels, rather than several more of smaller size as we believe the boys like to share the contents with others in their units," Mrs. Heffer said. The chairman added that chapter members again selected the packages from the Press-Record's "Yule Mail Call" lists, after first making sure the individual still is serving overseas.

Rev. Surrency to Attend Special Conference

Rev. Paul Surrency, pastor of St. John United Church of Christ, 2401 Nameoki road, has been nominated by the Midwest member of the board of directors of the Ecumenical Center, located on the campus of Yale University, New Haven, Conn., to attend a two-week conference on "Worship and the Changing World" April 17-28.

A total of 24 ministers from the various branches of American Christian Churches will take part in the conference of worship, study and research. Rev. Surrency will be the first minister from the Midwest to attend the Ecumenical Center.

The conferences on worship and the changing world are conducted on alternate years. The specific program this year has been developed jointly by Yale Divinity, Andover-Newton, Union, Princeton, Drew and Colgate-Rochester seminaries.

The faculty members include several world lecturers, theologians, scientists, sociologists, philosophers and interpreters of culture. The faculty members represent most of the Protestant Churches, as well as Orthodox and Roman Catholic traditions.

Rev. Surrency explained the purpose of the Center at Yale in general, as well as the aim of this conference on worship, is three-fold—to assist the ministers in relating the resources of the Gospel to a rapidly changing world; to expose the ministers to the renewal research projects and religious developments taking place within the contexts of other denominations and traditions; to return the minister to the local community in order to stimulate the churches, ministers and laity to become involved in projects of spiritual renewals, especially within an Ecumenical setting.

In addition, unlined draperies are economical and easy to make.

Before refrigerating the pre-packaged, uncooked meats, buy, remove or loosen the plastic wrapping. The plastic wrapping on meats should be replaced with a loose coverage of waxed paper or polyethylene before refrigerating so that air can contact the surface of the meat. Air causes the surface to dry out slightly and this prolongs storage life in the refrigerator.

If fresh meats are wrapped in waxed paper or butcher's paper, the covering need only be loosened. Since the thin polyethylene film used for packaging meats is not oxygen proof, it should not be used for freezing beef, pork, fish or shellfish. Poultry can be frozen for a short time in polyethylene film if it is tight and not punctured.

For freezing, rewrap most meats in moisture, vapor-proof paper — heavy aluminum foil, plastic-coated freezer paper, laminated freezer paper, or heavy polyethylene. Make sure the wrapping is tight and the package well sealed.

Do the terms "seconds" and "irregulars" used in hosiery advertisements mean the same thing?

Either Siemen, University of Illinois extension clothing specialist, explains that the Federal Trade Commission has established criteria to distinguish between the two.

"Irregular" hosiery fails to meet the standards for first quality and contains only minor imperfections, such as irregularities in foot size or length, color, or knit.

Stockings advertised as "seconds" do not meet either first-quality or irregular standards because they are actually damaged. They must contain runs, obvious mends, or other defects that affect wear.

Unlined Draperies Popular If you're in the market for draperies, consider unlined ones. The beauty of many new fabrics is enhanced by the light showing through the interesting textures.

C. or E. Sets Hearing On River Sedimentation

'Wild Bill' Hickok

JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University

A marker beside Illinois Highway 52 near the village of Troy Grove, in LaSalle county, indicates the birthplace of James Butler "Wild Bill" Hickok. As it driver on the Santa Fe Trail, in 1859 Hickok, then 22 years old, became a wagon and stage driver. "Wild Bill" Hickok, as it driver on the Santa Fe Trail, in 1859 Hickok, then 22 years old, became a wagon and stage driver. "Wild Bill" Hickok, as it driver on the Santa Fe Trail, in 1859 Hickok, then 22 years old, became a wagon and stage driver.

the death of the latter on July 12, 1861. The admiration of McCauley's buxom mistress for Hickok may have had some influence.

With the beginning of the Civil war, Hickok took service in the Union forces and was made a wagonmaster out of Fort Leavenworth. It was while taking a wagon trail through Independence, Mo., that an incident occurred which gave Hickok his special name of "Wild Bill." A woman watching the wagons go by, shouted out, "Great for you, Wild Bill." The name stuck and James Butler Hickok was known thereafter as Wild Bill Hickok.

Wild Bill was transferred to the Union forces at Springfield, Mo., where he served as scout and spy. Some of his performances in that assignment appear almost miraculous. They definitely indicate his cleverness, daring, and discriminating snap judgement. Once captured and sentenced as a spy he somehow escaped.

After the war Wild Bill, already with a reputation as a daring gunman, became a Deputy United States Marshal operating near Fort Riley. He next became an Indian scout, a guide, and a messenger, working for Generals Hancock, Sheridan and Custer. He later served as sheriff and town marshal in different places. In 1869 he became marshal in Hays City, Kansas, then considered about the toughest town on the border. He did his work there well, incidentally adding to his reputation as a well dressed, altogether a fascinating man. Like Bat Masterson there was nothing about him to suggest the bully or gunman. It is said that his killings always were in self defense or in line of duty. Despite all this, his revolver, at his death, bore seventy-one notches. None were for Indians.

Hickok next became marshal at Abilene, taking the place of the recently slain marshal Thomas J. Smith, known in legend as "Bear River Tom." Perhaps Smith was the greatest bare-knuckled marshal the West ever knew.

Headquarters in Saloon
In Abilene Wild Bill established his headquarters at the Alamo, a noted saloon and gambling house. Having his office there gave Hickok opportunity to gather information concerning individuals and incidents. As marshal he often patrolled the streets of the town armed with his two revolvers and a sawed-off shotgun. His stay there added to a reputation that already had become fabulous.

In Abilene, Hickok presented the unusual spectacle of one man who by sheer courage and skill held the lawless elements of the border at bay, in the execution of that task he again added notches to his gun.

In 1872-1873, Hickok toured the east with the William F. Cody "Buffalo Bill" show. Little interested in the life of a showman, Wild Bill returned to his cherished west and became marshal at Deadwood, Dakota Territory, where he was murdered by Jack McCall as he sat at a gambling table on Aug. 6, 1876. The hand he held when shot was two aces and two eights, since then it has been known as the "dead man's hand."

Council Expected To Act on Vote Appeal Tonight

Action on the at-large city election appeal, deferred during a special meeting on Saturday, Feb. 11, is anticipated at tonight's 8 o'clock meeting of the Granite City Council.

Efforts are being made by a number of the aldermen to block the seven aldermen at-large vote ruled Feb. 9 by Judge I. H. Streeter to get back to a ward basis for the April 4 city election. A lengthy agenda faces the aldermen for this evening's meeting, with a progress report due from the Special Sewer committee on a contract for engineering for a city-wide sewer and drainage program.

Ordinances scheduled for presentation are to prohibit the stabling of horses in the city, to permit hiring an assistant for the humane officer, to legalize the three electric traffic signals at St. Elizabeth and Nameoki grade school, to set up stop signs at 27th and Center streets, to specify the tavern patrons are to leave the premises and to eliminate the job of maintenance man in the city hall.

Disabled Vets Entitled To Former Employment

Veterans returning to civilian life who have been disabled in military service are entitled to their old jobs, according to Wilbur T. Lindholm, regional director for the Office of Veterans' Employment Rights in Chicago.

He said the law contains special provisions to allow ex-servicemen with service-sustained disabilities to return to work with their former employer. He said the statute provides for the reinstatement of a disabled veteran, even though he may not be qualified to perform the duties of his pre-service job.

Lindholm said, the employer has a statutory obligation to restore the disabled ex-serviceman. If he is not qualified for his old position, then the veteran has a right to some other job that he is qualified to perform. The law further requires that the substitute offer be of like seniority, status and pay to his former position, or the nearest approximation thereof consistent with the circumstances.
